JEU DE PISTE À MONTMARTRE

ERASMUS+ GET INVOLVED GIVE - LYCÉE ÉVARISTE GALOIS DE SARTROUVILLE - 18/10/2021
ÉCRIT ET TRADUIT PAR JULIA Z.-F, ARTHUR M., GALWEN L., MATHIS G., CLEMENCE D. - DEC. 2021

Lundi après-midi, nous nous sommes rendus sur Paris, dans le quartier de Montmartre. Les participants se sont divisés en huit groupes aux nationalités mixtes, et sont partis à la découverte de la petite butte parisienne. Pendant ce temps les élèves organisateurs les attendaient à l'arrivée, téléphones à l'aguet, prêts à aider en cas de besoin. Tout au long du jeu de piste, les élèves étrangers, tout comme les élèves français, ont pu découvrir les lieux emblématiques du célèbre quartier, et ainsi se plonger dans l'histoire de la ville. Enfin, c'est le sourire aux lèvres que les premiers groupes ont atteint l'arrivée, sur les marches du Sacré Cœur.

TREASURE HUNT IN MONTMARTRE

ERASMUS+ GET INVOLVED GIVE FRENCH TEAM/SARTROUVILLE E. GALOIS HIGH-SCHOOL - 18/10/2021
WRITTEN AND TRANSLATED BY JULIA Z.-F, ARTHUR M., GALWEN L., MATHIS G., CLEMENCE D. - DEC. 2021

Monday afternoon, we went to Paris, in the area of Montmartre. The participants split into eight groups of mixed nationalities, before taking off to explore the small Parisian hill. Meanwhile, the organising students were waiting for them at the finishing point, phones in hand, ready to help if needed. As the paper chase went on, the students, foreigners and french alike, had the chance to discover multiple emblematic locations of this famous area, and thus to dive into the city's history. Eventually, it is with a large smile on their faces that the first groups reached the arrival, on the steps of the Sacré Cœur.

El lunes por la tarde, fuimos a París, en el barrio de Montmartre. The park of the steps

He is the one who first brought the concept of advertising in France. Later, as World War Two was raging in Europe, he used his influence to get the German army to leave Paris. So he got the keys to the city and he used them to the rest of his empire, hence the third name. We still really remember him for the ads, though. What was his pseudo during WW2?

B — (1)

Advertising is a strange kind of art, but isn't it all strange, in its own way? The place you're at! He was the expert in Montmartre's advertising. So, come on! Let's go! Let's go! Come on! On the corner, you'll encounter the square with a green arrow that says top left, when you pass the black fence on your right. Then, since we saw a British impasse, now head toward the Irish pub. But don't stop for a drink, keep walking. At the end of the street, turn left, turn right, and here we are!

Adventure is a strange kind of art, but isn't it all strange, in its own way? The place you're at! These teams, some of them make really cool stuff. Plus, it's so full of details that you find the places shaped like a painter's palette! Look up, it's on the wall, right next to another plaque, indicating the French word 'tourist' was overused! Try and find where exactly it is from this Russian soldier's passing through Paris, and, unlabeled inside the establishments, kept screaming: "Quick, quick, quick!"

New lets head toward something that may not have been invented in Montmartre, but since it became so famous (and since it disappeared almost everywhere else), it became almost endemic to the area. You'll see it on the map, but it's not a real place, it's just a train, but on steps. Look up the different names on the map. Did you find it? If you did, time to go!

You should encounter a small church as you went the square. What's its name?

Saint — (3)

Sainte-Marguerite-d'Antioche

He is big, question: where are you? The upper or the downer station? As you can see, there are stairs, next to it, and I'm quite sure you're gonna use them, one way or another. Indeed, I am gonna give you a riddle to solve, and you will only answer by writing this device to go up, and then you'll be able to go up the stairs of the wappo! And if you want to go up, you'll need the tickets, the Navajo passes will cover it.

This was first set up at the very beginning of the twentieth century, but by then, it wasn't nearly as systematic as it is now. The system worked with two tanks of water, one of which emptied while the other filled efficiently, activating the two cables.

But, if you're one of the cabin's feet you know going up it's all right, then enjoy the ride. But as you approach the arrival, just give a look to the machines under all of it, and write down those two colors on the staircase. In French, sit your platt!

B — (4)

For the last step part of the stairs back in order to find the place you're gonna go last.

Arrival:

Can you solve all the enigmas and arrive at the meeting point in 1h30?

D — Departure: Place des Abbesses

So, how do you say 'love'?

Welcome to Montmartre! You just came out of the ground through one of Paris' very famous memo spots. Did you know that the first ever movie ever made in Paris was directed by Henri Gouraud, at the end of the 19th century? He had such a special style... You may know 'Art Deco', with its rough shapes and well-cut edges, but... but you never heard of 'Art Nouveau'. It's shaped like plants, flowers, and leaves. It's like a garden, but it's not a garden, it's a city! You'll see the name of small parks, look around you, you're on the Place des Abbesses. You should see the entrance of a small park. Come on, enter it, and follow your heart, to find the first step.

The park's name: S — (5) — J — (6) — R — (8)

Cards with all the possible answers

What a charming place, don't you think? This also houses one of a man's mind, Frédéric Barbu, but he had to get the help of different people, and especially an artist, Claude Monet, to put his dream together. And still now, you can leave your word, your way to tell about love, and later see it appear on the screen.

But this is only the beginning, turn around, and exit the park the same way you entered it. Then, once you first journey on the square, take the street of the Oly City, and let the flow guide you. You'll see a small park, and then a small path, and then a small path, and then a small path, and then be facing a building. If the address of this is even numbers, go left. If the number is odd, turn right. Whatever you choose, as soon as possible, if it is right, then you should be going square you're gonna play. If there are red arrows, they will lead you to your destination. What's the name of the square you're gonna play?

An sweet act

So, that was quite the wait, to me it was worth it. This man started off as an actor, but his career started creation, his stage for more. It's what already led him to a date. You know, some people may know an act, some may know the name of the person, but you can't always say 'I do chocolate'! And then, he got married, and then he got divorced, and then he got remarried by his family name, but what's this actor's first name?

S —

(6) (2)

Time to go to the last location now. Its name might give a smile to the ones who watched the Font Bayard show. Do you remember the two dwarfs? One was the keeper of the keys, and the other could cross any wall. The first one is 'Passe-muraille', and the other one is the place where you'll cross red nest.
